

Salt Lake City
International Airport

Maureen Riley Director Salt Lake City International Airport

For Immediate Release
December 31, 2015

Contact: Bianca Shreeve
801-575-2650 or
Nancy Volmer
801-209-5774

MAUREEN RILEY NAMED DIRECTOR OF THE YEAR
BY AIRPORT REVENUE NEWS MAGAZINE

Salt Lake City, UT– Airport Revenue News (ARN) magazine named Salt Lake City International Airport (SLC) Executive Director Maureen Riley as 2015 Director of the Year in the large airports category. ARN selected Riley for her leadership in the aviation industry and for her role in overseeing the airport’s $1.8 billion terminal redevelopment program. Riley is featured on the cover of the December/January issue of the publication and will be presented the award at the ARN Conference and Exhibition in March.

“I am honored by this recognition and accept the award on behalf of the dedicated professionals and partners that make up the SLC team,” says Riley. “We consistently strive to enhance the customer experience at Salt Lake City International Airport and are working to deliver a state-of-the-art terminal in 2020.”

Airport Revenue News Publisher Ramon Lo, cited Riley’s work to improve SLC, her contributions to the aviation industry as well as the tremendous respect by her peers, which made her a unanimous choice by the ARN editorial team.

Riley currently serves as chair of Airports Council International – North America– an organization that advocates for policies and issues that impact the aviation industry.

#

The Salt Lake City International Airport serves nearly 22 million passengers per year and is the 25th busiest airport in North America and 85th busiest in the world. More than 317 flights depart daily to more than 90 non-stop destinations. The airport is undergoing a $1.8 billion redevelopment program the first phase of which will be completed in 2020.